

Graduate School of International Cooperation Studies aims to foster people who can become leaders in the world of academics and society, those who can analyze various phenomena happening in the society logically, and be able to communicate internationally.

To accomplish the above aims, the Graduate School of International Cooperation Studies organizes and implements the curriculum according to the curriculum map below.

International Studies Program	M1		M2	D1	D2	D3
High Expertise	Seminar International Relations Special Lecture on Transnational Relations Issues in Peace and Development I II International Development Cooperation Japanese ODA Special Lecture on Development Management Development Management Human Capital Development Social Research Method for Development	International Security Studies Aid Administration Project Appraisal and Policy Evaluation Sub-Saharan African Economies African Politics Change in International Relations International Assistance Policy Development Anthropology Global Challenge of Disaster Reduction Global Environmental Engineering Evaluation of Educational Development History of City and Architectural Environment Educational Development Comparative Educational Planning Comparative Analysis on Educational Development International Public Health: Theory and Method Study of Infectious Diseases	Seminar Subjects not taught in the previous year	Advanced Research Workshop I	Advanced Research Workshop II	Advanced Research Advanced Research Presentation
Broad Intellectuality	Subjects taught in other programs and other graduate schools			International Organization Management
Internationality	International Field Work			Advanced Overseas Research
Practicality	Double Degree Program Exchange Program			Sandwich Program
	Internship			Internship

Development and Economics Program	M1		M2	D1	D2	D3
High Expertise	Seminar Macroeconomics Microeconomics Statistics Economic Development Studies Econometrics Public Finance Socio-Economic Development Theory Monetary Theory International Economics Environmental Economics Growth Theory Mathematics for Social Sciences Special Lecture on Development Economics Special Lecture on Development Policy Special Lecture on Development Planning Special Lecture on Regional Economics	Economic Cooperation Studies Development Finance International Structural Adjustment Theory Comparative Economic System Regional Economics Comparative Economic Development Japanese Economic Development Comparative Economic System Socio-Economic Development of Japan	Seminar Subjects not taught in the previous year	Advanced Research Workshop I	Advanced Research Workshop II	Advanced Research Advanced Research Presentation
Broad Intellectuality	Subjects taught in other programs and other graduate schools			International Organization Management
Internationality	International Field Work			Advanced Overseas Research
Practicality	Double Degree Program Exchange Program			Sandwich Program
	Internship			Internship

International Law/ Law and Development Program	M1		M2	D1	D2	D3
High Expertise	Seminar International Human Rights Law Law and Economic Development Law and Social Development International Cooperation Law Special Lecture on International Cooperation Law International Environmental Law Special Lecture on Institutional Building Law and State Building Law of the International Civil Service	Legal Cooperation in Japan International Economic Law International Human Rights Law Special Topics in International Cooperation Law Society and Culture in Development Islamic Law and Society	Seminar Subjects not taught in the previous year	Advanced Research Workshop I International Organization Management	Advanced Research Workshop II	Advanced Research Advanced Research Presentation
Broad Intellectuality	Subjects taught in other programs and other graduate schools			International Organization Management
Internationality	International Field Work			Advanced Overseas Research
Practicality	Double Degree Program Exchange Program			Sandwich Program
	Internship			Internship
	International Law in Diplomacy Multilateral Treaty Negotiation	Multilateral Treaty Negotiation	Careers in International Organization	Advanced Overseas Research

Politics and Area Studies Program	Master			Doctor
Study Goals	M1		M2	D1	D2	D3
High Expertise	Seminar Comparative Politics Local Government Local Development Japanese Politics Political Development Special Lecture on Political and Social Development	Comparative Public Administration Comparative Democracy Comparative Area Studies Comparative and Quantitative Political Analysis Research Methods in Political Science Comparative Political Culture Foreign Relations of Japan	Seminar Subjects not taught in the previous year	Advanced Research Workshop I	Advanced Research Workshop II	Advanced Research Advanced Research Presentation
Broad Intellectuality	Subjects taught in other programs and other graduate schools			International Organization Management
Internationality	International Field Work			Advanced Overseas Research
Practicality	Double Degree Program Exchange Program			Sandwich Program
	Internship			Internship		