

The School of business administration aims to foster human resources who can take the intellectual lead in future knowledge-based and industrial societies. Students will acquire broad knowledge in the fields of business administration, accounting, and commerce, specialized capabilities and excellence in terms of their humanity, creativity and international awareness.

To achieve this educational objective, the School follows the degree award policy established by Kobe University, and has set its own policy regarding the awarding of degrees as indicated below.

Degree: Bachelor of Business Administration

1. The School has set its learning goal as acquiring the following abilities in addition to the virtues prescribed by the university's policy on conferring degrees.

- The in-depth general education and high ethical standards necessary to understand the essence of the relationship between an organization and the society and environment surrounding it.
- The basic and specialized knowledge in the fields of business administration and accounting necessary to understand actual situations and problems related to management and solve them practically and innovatively.
- The expressiveness and communication skills needed to appropriately communicate their own thoughts on management not only to people in Japan, but also to people overseas.

2. The School's graduation requirement for the conferring of the Bachelor of Business Administration is to attend Kobe University for the prescribed period of time, to acquire the credits stipulated in the university's rules for the School, and to achieve the learning goals set by the university and the School.

Degree: Bachelor of Commerce

1. The School has set its learning goal as acquiring the following abilities in addition to the virtues prescribed by the university's policy on conferring degrees.

- The in-depth general education and high ethical standards necessary to understand the essence of the relationship between an organization and the society and environment surrounding it.
- The basic and specialized knowledge in the fields of commerce necessary to understand actual situations and problems related to management and solve them practically and innovatively.
- The expressiveness and communication skills needed to appropriately communicate their own thoughts on management not only to people in Japan, but also to people overseas.

2. The School's graduation requirement for the conferring of the Bachelor of Commerce is to attend Kobe University for the prescribed period of time, to acquire the credits stipulated in the university's rules for the School, and to achieve the learning goals set by the university and the School.